Here's what you can do...

Make a financial contribution and we'll double your money.

Your investment in the Early Childhood Development Coalition will be matched dollar for dollar thanks to a special grant from the Lilly Endowment. Your donation will bring vital services to local children, families and early childhood providers in our community.

Encourage employees to volunteer with the Coalition.

We need adults who share our passion on this issue to teach literacy workshops, to work directly with families or children, to help at local events, to learn how to spread the word to others or to serve on one of the coalition's subcommittees, including literacy, family involvement, ready schools/transition, public policy or health and nutrition.

Invite our early childhood experts into your workplace.

Start by educating your own employees. Many of them are parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles or friends to young children and may underestimate the role they can play in preparing young ones for a successful future. We can give short workshops that provide tips on reading, emotional development and meaningful interactions.

Educate your workplace on early childhood issues.

We can provide you with information to include in your workplace communications, such as internal newsletters, payroll envelopes, flyers, etc.
